1828-1905

Around the World in Eighty Days is a classic adventure novel by the French writer Jules Verne, first published in French in 1872.

In the story, Phileas Fogg of London and his newly employed French valet (a person working in a hotel whose job is to clean the clothes of the guests staying in that hotel) Passepartout (pah-spar-too) attempt to circumnavigate (circle/move around/orbit) the world in 80 days on a wager (bet) of £20,000 (20000 pounds = Rs. 20,00,000) (equivalent to £2.5 million in 2025 = Rs. 25 crores) set by his friends at the Reform Club (a private club owned and controlled by its members).

It is one of Verne's most acclaimed works.

1828-1905

He published “Voyages Extraordinaires”, which is a series of bestselling adventure novels including Journey to the Center of the Earth (1864), Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Seas (1870), and Around the World in Eighty Days (1872).

His novels are generally set in the second half of the 19th century, taking into account contemporary scientific knowledge and the technological advances of the time.

The skeletal system is the body's framework, providing support, protection, and allowing for movement. It comprises bones, cartilage, and ligaments, working together to maintain body shape and facilitate joint function.

In adults, the system is made up of 206 bones, divided into the axial (80 bones in the head, neck and trunk) and appendicular skeletons (126 bones in the limbs, shoulders and pelvis)

Social Studies

SOCIAL STUDIES CAMBRIDGE CONNECTION

The series focusses on the study of social, cultural and environmental aspects of societies in the past, present and future.

It gives a basic introduction of History Geography and Civics to prepare the learners for the middle school years where these subjects would be an important component of the curriculum.
